Supt. J. L. Chapman Issues Memorial Day Instructions to Teachers—Death of Blanche Bellavance.

The following Memorial Day notice has been sent to the teachers in the town of Plainfield:

Memorial Day is next Wednesday and schools are closed for the day. But in this time of national stress you are urged to bring before your pupils the motive and purpose of the day and to impress upon them the need for their thoughtful consideration of the blessings we enjoy and the debt we owe to those men who gave their lives for our country might continue to exist as "The Land of the Free." Few indeed remain of those who fought our battles over fifty years ago and to those few we should render all honor possible, and from their noble example draw lessons of patriotism and unselfish devotion to our country.

Let every child feel that Memorial Day is a day to be observed so far as possible by a spirit of quietness, reverence and loyalty.

People from all over town should attend the exercises in the Town hall at 2 o'clock. George B. Chandler, speaker of the day, is an orator of note and those who hear him will have a rich treat.

(Signed) J. L. CHAPMAN, Superintendent of Schools in Town of Plainfield.

Supt. John L. Chapman read a very interesting letter to the students of the Plainfield High school, Central Village, Friday morning, stating that the Connecticut Agricultural Committee is sending out a call for 1000 boys to raise 75,000 bushels of corn. These same boys are to join the state contest in which the state offers prizes amounting to $200.

In Response to the Call

For things Military, Fashion has taken a practical turn of mind, and presented the Cape Coat, in many smart designs.

Because they are so becoming to most every type of figure, they are rapidly winning popularity among well dressed women everywhere. And because they are smartly appropriate for so many occasions—street, motoring and even to wear over light evening frocks, they will most economically solve the summer wrap problem.

Smart Morning Dresses

Are now made of gingham. A new type of dress is called a Shirtwaist Frock, having the skirt buttoning onto the waist.

Early Spring Millinery

Nothing but a personal visit could portray the loveliness of the new modes. Large drooping Leghorns, many with bright colored facings, all white hats of exceptional charm, all black hats for dress and tailored wear and a great variety of "intermediate" hats distinctly new and different.
